

Download British Universities China

Liverpool University. Liverpool is another university with a research reputation. Founded in 1881, the University has over 27,000 students. The first UK Nobel Prize winner, Professor Ronald Ross, went to Liverpool University and today, it has over 1,300 leading researchers. It also has countless partners around the world, including China.

Leading and time-honored universities in China Peking University is the first formally established modern national university of China. It was founded as Imperial University of Peking ( 1898 ) in 1898 in Beijing as a replacement of the ancient Guozijian , the national central institute of learning in China's traditional educational system in the past thousands of years.

3. University of Science and Technology of China. The University of Science and Technology of China is a national research university in Hefei, Anhui province. It was founded to boost science and technology education in China.

The Sino-British College, Shanghai (SBC) is based in a beautiful historic campus in the heart of the city of Shanghai. Currently, it has about 1,400 full-time undergraduate students and over 80 international students from about 25 countries and regions.

If you're an international student interested in studying in China, there are many choices -- and not a lot of guidance. Use this article to acquaint yourself with the best universities in China for international students, and find one that's right for you.

The next of our top universities in China is Shanghai Jiao Tong University, which concludes the set of five continuous Chinese universities in the top five of the BRICS ranking, and also places 22 nd in the latest Asia ranking. It was founded in 1896 and now teaches around 37,500 students, of which 1,700 come from outside China. Shanghai Jiao Tong University offers 63 undergraduate programs, 250 master's programs and 28 postdoctoral programs.

China has set a limit regarding students' age when applying: most universities don't accept students over 30 for a Bachelor's degree and over 40 for a Master's degree and a PhD. Apply to at least three universities and you will improve your chances of being admitted.

The University of Nottingham Ningbo China (UNNC) was the first Sino-foreign university to open its doors in China. Established in 2004, with the full approval of the Chinese Ministry of Education, we are run by the University of Nottingham with co-operation from Zhejiang Wanli Education Group, a key player in the education sector in China.

A consistent contender among the top universities in China, Peking University is a prestigious research university belonging to China's C9 League. Established in 1898 and located in Beijing, Peking University admits a high number of international students every year and has maintained a partnership with Germany's Freie Universität Berlin since 1981.

The British Council is the UK's international organisation for cultural relations and educational opportunities. We are on the ground in six continents and over 100 countries, bringing international opportunity to life, every day. Find out more about us.

Other Files :

British Universities China Association, British University China Campus, British Universities In China, British University China, British Universities In China The Reality Beyond The Rhetoric, British Inter-university China Centre, British Universities With Campuses In China,