

Download Economic And Social Survey Of Asia And The Pacific 2014 Regional Connectivity For Shared Prosperity

The Economic and Social Survey of Asia and the Pacific is the oldest and most comprehensive annual review of economic and social development in Asia and the Pacific. This flagship publication of ESCAP outlines policies to sustain dynamic growth and to make it inclusive such as unlocking fiscal space to finance higher productive government spending and enhancing regional connectivity through stronger institutional coordination across the region.

Get this from a library! Economic and social survey of Asia and the Pacific 2014 : regional connectivity for shared prosperity. [United Nations. Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific,] -- Annotation The Survey 2014 examines the region's challenges to support its economic growth and to promote inclusive and sustainable development.

Economic and Social Survey of Asia and the Pacific Since its establishment in 1947, the United Nations Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific (ESCAP), previously the Economic Commission for Asia and the Far East (ECAFE), has issued its flagship publication the Survey annually.

Economic and Social Survey of Asia and the Pacific 2016 ? iii Inclusive and sustainable economic growth is essential for the success of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development.

ESCAP is the regional development arm of the United Nations and serves as the main economic and social development centre for the United Nations in Asia and the Pacific.

Summary. The 2013 edition of the Economic and Social Survey of Asia and the Pacific analyses the short and medium-term challenges for the region and the outlook for the year ahead.

ILO Regional Office for Asia and the Pacific Regional Economic and Social Analysis Unit (RESA) December 2014 Global Wage Report 2014/15 | Asia and the Pacific Supplement

Economic and Social Survey of Asia and the Pacific 2016: Year-end Update iii KEY MESSAGES Economic conditions stabilized in the Asia-Pacific region in the second half of 2016.

ESCAP is the regional development arm of the United Nations and serves as the main economic and social development centre for the United Nations in Asia and the Pacific.

In the Survey for 2017, it was argued that effective pursuit of such a comprehensive policy agenda requires better and more effective governance, particularly in the context of fiscal management given the growing demands on fiscal policy to support economies and address diverse social and environmental challenges.

Other Files :